

Dr. Taher Nasr Abdelkader Rizk

Dr. Taher Nasr Abdelkader Rizk serves as the Deputy Executive Director of the National Training Academy (NTA), one of Egypt's leading national institutions dedicated to leadership development, capacity building, and the preparation of future public-sector leaders. In this role, he contributes to shaping the Academy's strategic direction, advancing institutional excellence, and strengthening national and international partnerships that support sustainable human capital development in alignment with Egypt Vision 2030.

Combining academic excellence with executive leadership, Dr. Nasr holds a Ph.D. from Cairo University and serves as a Lecturer at the Nuclear Materials Authority. His multidisciplinary background enables him to bridge scientific research, public administration, and leadership development, contributing to innovative approaches in institutional capacity building and talent development.

Throughout his professional career, Dr. Nasr has designed and delivered hundreds of executive training programs, keynote lectures, and professional workshops in the fields of leadership development, human resource management, institutional excellence, organizational development, strategic communication, and youth empowerment. His expertise has supported numerous prestigious national institutions, including the Ministry of Youth and Sports, the Ministry of Interior, the Military Academy, Nasser Higher Military Academy, Egyptian universities, and various governmental organizations.

As Deputy Executive Director of the National Training Academy, Dr. Nasr plays a pivotal role in advancing national leadership development initiatives, enhancing executive education programs, promoting innovation in learning methodologies, and fostering strategic collaborations that strengthen the Academy's position as Egypt's premier center of excellence for leadership and capacity development.

Beyond his executive responsibilities, Dr. Nasr is a recognized thought leader and one of the region's influential digital voices in leadership and personal development. Through his educational content across multiple digital platforms, he inspires a broad audience with practical insights on leadership, self-development, lifelong learning, and youth empowerment, contributing to the development of a culture of excellence, innovation, and responsible leadership.

Dr. Nasr firmly believes that investing in people is the foundation of sustainable national development. His leadership philosophy is centered on empowering individuals, cultivating future leaders, and building resilient institutions capable of driving meaningful and lasting societal impact.
