

ABOUT NATIONAL TRAINING ACADEMY

NTA is a human development catalyst and intellectual stimulant missioned to alleviate and bridge the gap of professional technocrat leadership that is much needed for different positions and missions in the Egyptian state.

The type of leadership that transcends the boundaries of its own mission towards impacting society and humanity at large. Since its inception, NTA strategies have been wired around very rigorous policies, procedures and KPI's for employees', trainers' and trainees' recruitment.

To realize a ripple effect and cover as efficiently as possible the gap for tuned and capable leadership, NTA approached management and leadership from both top-bottom and bottom-top in parallel not sequential lanes.

This approach created a common know-how and language down the same management chain of command. NTA transformational programs target different segments and different leadership levels from ministers and governors down to the front-liners. Their transformational journey is created by trimmed and tailored training and experiential simulations, shadowing through NTA and its rich local and international strategic renowned network and partners in human development. NTA training experience provides them with a different level of awareness and ability to transform their performance.

A new addition to this list of specially designed programs is the launch of the Egyptian Woman Abroad Program (EWAP) which acts as the first in a series of programs addressing Women for Leadership topics NTA plans on offering.

EGYPTIAN WOMEN ABROAD PROGRAM (EWAP)

WOMEN FOR LEADERSHIP SCHOOL

Egyptian Women Abroad Program (EWAP) is one of the programs designed under "Women for Leadership School" that NTA offers in cooperation with The Ministry of Planning and Economic Development and International Cooperation together with The Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Emigration and Egyptian Expatriates, as part of Egypt's leadership strategy to empower women with the needed knowledge and skill-sets that help them secure their economic welfare and employability in the ever-changing markets.

This EWAP program marks the debut of a series of programs addressing women for leadership topics. The program is dedicated to Egyptian women living abroad who would like to have the chance to sharpen their saws to being well prepared and keeping up with the market and its trends.

This 75-day program will take the candidate in a holistic experience to recharge the participants with a lot of multi-disciplinary know-how and must-knows and will give them a great chance to network with like-minded Egyptian women abroad.

The training experience is conducted online, so it would give you the agility to manage your time-schedule freely without compromising the richness of interaction and engagement.
